Northwest Istria.

Adriatic cycling oasis.

Croatia

Istria

Northwest Istria

Eddy Merckx, a world cycling legend and a five-time winner of Tour de France has paid tribute to Istria by saying that the territory is simply stunning.

Northwest Istria is an Adriatic region in the westernmost part of Croatia, at the junction of the Mediterranean and Central Europe. It comprises coastal towns of Umag and Novigrad and, in the hinterland, Buje and Brtonigla. Northwest Istria is one of Europe's most desirable cycling destinations.

It opens the door to a richer and more challenging world of cycling, with a collage of experiences, intact nature, top quality food and accommodation, culture and exploring, peace and beauty. Previous experience, natural resources and the existing infrastructure show that the region meets the requirements of bike tourists, mountain bikers and road cyclists, regardless of whether they come here alone, with their families or a larger group, and whether they are looking for a place for recreation, training or to organize a race.

Northwest Istria has a total of 19 equipped and specially marked bike tracks that are as roads to unlimited possibilities for exploring destinations as well as your own cycling potential. The variety of the trails will satisfy all profiles of cyclists, which makes it deserve the epithet of the ideal bike region. By following high standards, the licensed bike hotels offer the complete service of accommodation, and along with an equipment shop, renting bike guides, an offer of attractive package arrangements, the cyclists also have bike experts at their disposal. They are precisely the ones, which with their knowledge and professionalism are a great source of useful information and professional help from all aspects of the world of cycling.

The dynamism of the region is reflected in the implementation of more than 15 bike events as confirmation of the exciting events throughout the year. The Mediterranean climate which doesn't have any longer periods of cold weather allows cycling to take place during nine months of the year. The configuration of the terrain is very suitable and attractive and diverse cycling paths along the coast and in the hinterland are over 550 kilometres long. Northwest Istria's added advantage is its position. You can easily come here by car from Slovenia, Italy, Austria, Switzerland, Germany and Bosnia and Herzegovina. The new highway network guarantees a comfortable and safe journey. You can also arrive by ship and plane. There are airports in Pula, Zagreb, Trieste, Venice and Ljubljana.

Other than the clear sea and clean beaches, the Northwest Istria cycling adventure includes autochthonous cuisine and Istria's olive oil and wines. Cyclists can also use the infrastructure intended for other sports, such as tennis, golf and football, but also a top quality wellness offer with a range of content.

The great significance of Northwest Istria as a bike region is also spoken of by Massimo De Bertolis, the Italian professional cyclist in the MTB category and the world champion of 2004 in the marathon category who praises the extraordinary benefits of its bike trails. De Bertolis emphasizes the beauty of the natural riches of this area where the contents and infrastructure of the trails themselves, along with the accommodation capacities, are ideal for professional preparations as well as for recreationalists wanting to cycle and enjoy the nature.

- September: Buje Eco Bike Marathon
- November: Wine Bike Marathon

Bike signalization.

Signalization

Cycling trails are marked in accordance with European standards and form a part of a unique signalization system on the level of entire Istria, in which NW Istria is assigned numbers 1 to 99.

Green tables mark easy trails without long or steep climbs. They are either straight or slightly wavy, do not have any dangerous or technically demanding laps and can be mastered by every cyclist. Suitable for families with small children.

Intermediate routes are marked yellow. They have short or medium long climbs and are moderately steep. They are intended for medium level cyclists.

Red tables mark demanding trails, suitable for skilled cyclists in good physical condition. They have many climbs of all lengths and levels of steepness, can contain an uneven terrain, steep descents and other technically demanding elements. Not suitable for family cycling.

It is important to know that description, marking and maintaining of the roads is performed by sports experts, cyclists and local terrain experts, which guarantees the safety and reliability of all trails, their map representations and signalization.

Informational boards

The bike trails of Northwest Istria are additionally described with an overview and useful information for all riders. Each informational board contains a clear map of the area on which the trail is located and offers its complete overview.

In the area of Northwest Istria there are 30 informational boards set with all described bike trails. They contain information on each trail such as its length, total ascending length and the difficulty evaluation of each trail.

The highlighted contour lines are of great importance to the cyclists, especially on the more demanding trails with a great number of ascents. There is an interesting graphic display of altimetry with height differences in meters.

The informational table also shows what type of road is on a certain trail, which is clearly marked with a dotted line for macadam and land parts to a full line for asphalt.

Luxurious cycling and adventure paths.

Northwest Istria is full of cycling paths beckoning exploration and adventure. The surface is clay, gravel and asphalt, and the routes are marked and regularly maintained.

Tracks for road cyclists

You will be able to profoundly enjoy your road cycling training on the professionally laid tracks of Northwest Istria, ranging between 115 and 190 kilometres in length. The lush environment, picturesque towns and fresh air will charge you with healing energies, turning your training or recreational ride into a true cycling experience. While riding on the tracks, you will be faced both with easy obstacles and very difficult challenges that are well-suited for first-class training sessions. You will be able to test your basic and critical endurance, your bike's chronometer, changes in pace, strength and even endurance skills on the extremely steep slopes.

Training alongside the natural coast, accompanied by a light sea breeze and ascents after which you are greeted by charming mediaeval towns, picturesque vineyards and olive groves will certainly tempt you to visit again and embark on new rides in the cycling paradise of Northwest Istria.

Gourmet & wine

The Gourmet & Wine bike trail invites all experienced gastronomic connoisseurs and true wine lovers for socializing. It is designed as a package of recreation and is gastronomically filled with delicacies on attractive checkpoints in Northwest Istria. Go for a ride and search for wine cellars and agritourism that offer only homemade products, from the praised Istrian prosciutto to truffles, a tested powerful aphrodisiac leader of the Istrian table.

Continue further, weave through the magical green vineyards to Momjan and Brtonigla where, in modern equipped tasting areas, you can try exquisite muškat, malvasia and teran wine. Letting yourself relax under the open sky is only a part of the gourmet experience waiting only for you.

Family

The bike trails intended for families are a true choice for parents who wish to spend their free time actively and in quality with their children. The ideal hinterland of Northwest Istria with hills where the view reaches far away to the endless sea is the basic incentive for exploring Istria's beauty on two wheels.

There will be no lack of excitement because the family ride will turn into a real adventure. The trail reveals old lighthouses, the former railroad track and medieval remains of towers and monumental fortresses that spark the imagination of all generations.

The original Istrian wine cellars lively live in small towns so they are the ideal place for a family lunch.

On your way back, the fresh sea air that reaches your family from the blue Adriatic Sea enriches the enjoyment in the ride..

Nature & culture

The magical blue-green combination is interwoven in all the bike trails of Northwest Istria. The gran forests and modest woods are as if they have completely embraced the entire cultural heritage, centuries of influence to the culture of life in these areas.

Cycling in these surroundings turns into a personal cultural maturing. If you find yourself in the green hills towards medieval Grožnjan, the town of artists, stop and experience the treasures of the galleries saved there by numerous artists.

MTB trails

Professional cyclists, individuals and groups, clubs and teams, can test their strength, endurance and speed on demanding and medium demanding parts of the MTB trail. Physical progress is guaranteed thanks to the demanding ascents, the steep falls and unpredictable curves.

Each cyclist will build form on this type of track while perfecting the technique of bike riding and contribute to his health by riding through untouched nature and breathing fresh and clean air. The longest trail in this category reaches approximately 80 kilometres of riding, and it leads to small towns in the continental part of Istria on mild hills that open their doors leaving only the most beautiful memories.

For cyclists, these MTB trails of Northwest Istria are one of the greatest excitements in their career; they are fast, intensive, with unlimited freedom and beauty in life that offers eternal adventure.

Continue your nature & culture bike adventure towards Završje or Oprtalj by riding to a slow rhythm and feel the luxurious untouched nature and rich cultural heritage. Rest long soft springs and wild streams in the valley of the Mirna River that defies the peace of century-old trees with its current. One bike ride is enough for us to return again to this synergy of nature and culture.

Cross country

Cyclists that are fulfilled with a desire for continuous adrenaline and strive for excellent physical form and perfecting bike techniques choose the Cross Country trails of Northwest Istria. The trails have many sport polygons located in the hinterland of Umag and Novigrad, in the peacefulness of untouched nature and continuous acceleration on the land.

They are ideal for training and are especially attractive single tracks, narrow parts of the trails for practicing techniques and perfecting physical form. All trails call for great strength and the excitement is constantly growing because Cross Country trails are primarily of competitive character.

The testimonies of the cyclists speak of especially attractive routes that live in complete harmony with nature at the viaduct of the Parenzana next to the village of Peroj and the curvy polygon at the end of the trail. Choose your team and look for true bike excitement.

Parenzana

The former railroad track, Parenzana, connected Poreč and Trieste approximately one hundred years ago and today it connects the cyclists and pedestrians as one of the most desirable and most beautiful bike trails in Istria. The preserved viaducts of Završje and Oprtalj are a reminder of the railroad history, along with the tunnels Freski, Motovun and Kostajnica and the railroad houses that reflect days gone by.

For the cyclists they are all an inspiration and natural motivation for future bike adventures. All, domestic and foreign recreationalists, ecologically conscious travellers and cyclists who chose a destination with a clear attitude regarding preserving the environment, visit Parenzana. While driving through Parenzana, pay attention to its peaceful curves, its mild ascents and hidden routes. In this perfect natural harmony, you will be completely taken over by the feeling of admiration towards this peaceful area, where once a slow locomotive passed through.

Bike hotels.

Accommodation tailored for two-wheeled guests.

Northwest Istria has numerous accommodation facilities licensed as bike hotels. Such facilities have additional content and services for cyclists, and are assigned their designation by independent reviewers.

Bike hotels are located near bike trails, have a safe room for storing bicycles, a repair shop with tools for basic repairs, the possibility of renting and washing bicycles as well as washing clothes and equipment. They also offer information and materials necessary for planning routes, a cuisine adapted to greater physical efforts and various other benefits. They often feature a special vehicle in case of a malfunction, unforeseen events or for transporting cyclists to and from the facilities.

The region also offers other types of accommodation - campsites, hotels, private houses, apartments and family farms, which can also cater to the needs of cyclists.

Events.

Races, marathons, recreational cycling manifestations...

There are more than 15 recreational bike marathons in the area of Umag, Novigrad, Buje and Brtonigla a year, from March to October, although some are also held during the winter thanks to the mild climate.

Some of them have a 15-year-long tradition and loyal participants who return every year. They often have a theme and are linked to the region's specific offer.

They offer an asparagus excursion, wine bike marathon to Momjan, venture along the Parenzana or an excursion to Završje, reminding us of the hidden beauties of the small hilltop town.

The cluster's special jewel is the Parenzana Marathon, a professional mountain bike marathon founded 14 years ago and listed in the UCI calendar.

The best part of the race follows the route of the railway road of the same name which is now a cycling trail, and which still features old tunnels, overpasses and bridges. Winding and romantic, the Parenzana is the symbol of the NW Istria's step into a new cycling era.

The region's considerable potential has been recognized globally in 2004, when one lap of the famous Giro d'Italia race was held in Istria and passed through Umag and Novigrad.

Also, we must mention the junior road race Kroz Istru (Through Istria), listed in the UCI calendar, two laps of which are held in the Umag and Novigrad every year. It is one of the biggest junior races in the world. Also, the cluster has been the host of the XC Istra Grand Prix cross country mountain bike race, which was held from 2002 to 2004 in the Kanegra campsite and was also a part of the UCI calendar in Category 1.

As the host of two prestigious road races Trophy Umag and Istrian Spring, Umag is also known as the destination of top events in the world of bike touring.

The international bike race Trophy Umag is held for the third time along the attractive Umag area. The one-day race gathers approximately 200 riders and 25 teams and a confirmation of the great significance of this event is also its entry in the official calendar of Union Cyclist International (UCI).

The already traditional bike race Istrian Spring this year marks its 12th edition. With an international character, this route race through Istria brings numerous, exceptionally quality cyclists from all parts of the world.

In the period between 22 and 26 April 2015, the international cycling race Tour of Croatia, was held in Croatia for the first time. The date of 25 April is of particular importance for Istria and Umag, as on this day the 4th stage of the race from Pula to Umag was held.

Istria Granfondo

The large marathon Istria Granfondo is a special form of a bike event with a start and goal in Umag and Novigrad. The two-day Istria Granfondo Marathon is mostly ridden through Northwest Istria as a race organized in three routes. The participants can choose between the shorter, 89 kilometre long route, Istria Granfondo Small, and the longer Istria Granfondo Classic route which amounts to 132 kilometres.

A larger part of the route of Istria Granfondo Classic is ridden on paths that in the year 2004 were part of the 14th route of the famous race Giro d'Italia. It passes through central Istria, through Pazin, Motovun and Oportalj where it then returns to Northwest Istria, to Umag.

The recreational cycling event Istria Granfondo Family & Gourmet Tour that is held on Saturday, with both the starting and the finish line in Novigrad, is an exceptionally popular recreational cycling event that attracts all kinds of participants. The track will take you along the sea and through multiple vineyards and olive groves, while at the refreshment point you will be able to enjoy authentic Istrian products.

The planned trip to Northwest Istria, a challenging bike destination, will become one irresistible adventure on two wheels.

What famous cyclists say about us.

Many professional cyclists have recognised the ideal conditions of Northwest Istria for preparations, training and atypical cycling endeavours. Among them are the former professional cyclist Vladimir Miholjević from Croatia, the former world champion in mountain biking Massimo Debertolis from Italy, and one of the best mountain cyclists in the world, Manuel Fumić from Germany.

Vladimir Miholjević
(Croatia)

"In the past few years, during January and February, Umag has become the regular polygon where my team and I hold basic training sessions in preparation for the upcoming competition season. The balmy climate and the favourable terrain configuration provide the ideal setting for winter preparations, while the striking landscapes of Buje, Motovun, Opatlj, Savudrija and other towns have a truly healing effect after difficult training sessions. The first professional races in Croatia were also organised by tourism workers from Umag, and at those races I achieved some of my favourite results. Northwest Istria is truly a place that gives you the desire to immediately invite your family or close friends to share all of its magic with them."

Massimo Debertolis
(Italy)

"I became world champion in 2004, and today I'm trying to merge competitions with other cycling experiences. One of such experiences is the cycling camp held on the tracks of Northwest Istria on the last week of May. This project acquainted me with the gorgeous landscapes of Istria, which had been unfamiliar to me before that point. The track of Parenzana, where the legendary railroad once undulated, delighted me the most. The off road track passes through some of the most beautiful landscapes in Istria, and the whole route is marked and described in detail with panels. A true rarity in the cycling world."

Manuel Fumić
(Germany)

"I was delighted by the landscapes, the gorgeous views of the sea and the vistas of the interior. I always felt very good in Istria – the people are kind and always at your disposal. The sports nutrition plan offered by the hotels surprised me with its quality and diversity. A healthy diet is of exceptional importance for sportspeople, and this region really has something to offer with its selection of olive oils, homemade pasta, truffles and all the other delicacies I had the opportunity to try."

Bike specialists.

A reliable support for cyclists.

Shops, repair shops and other points offering logistical support to tourists during all the stages of their two-wheeled adventure are an important link in the chain of cycling offer in Northwest Istria. They are managed by skilled professionals who instil trust with their work and competence, and ensure the desired service is delivered as soon as possible and that unforeseen events are settled quickly and easily.

Information for cyclists.

Detailed descriptions of the routes are available in the Bike Guide Through Northwest Istria, a quality extensive edition published in several languages. The book features detailed maps, trail descriptions and photographs.

The offer of Northwest Istria consists in two maps with a total of 19 drawn-in bike routes, one with 13 MTB trails and the other with 6 for bike tourists. Both contain basic technical information, registered altimetry and information on services and contents that you will find all along each individual trail you are cycling on.

The entire offer of the Northwest Istria is available on the cluster's main portal called Colours of Istria, which is also its slogan. There is a special chapter on cycling.
